One team. One platform. Every service connected.

Most firms give you separate specialists who never speak to each other. At Ting, each service passes its work straight to the next inside TingCloud, and our multilingual team connects people across cultures, languages and regions.

THE USUAL WAY

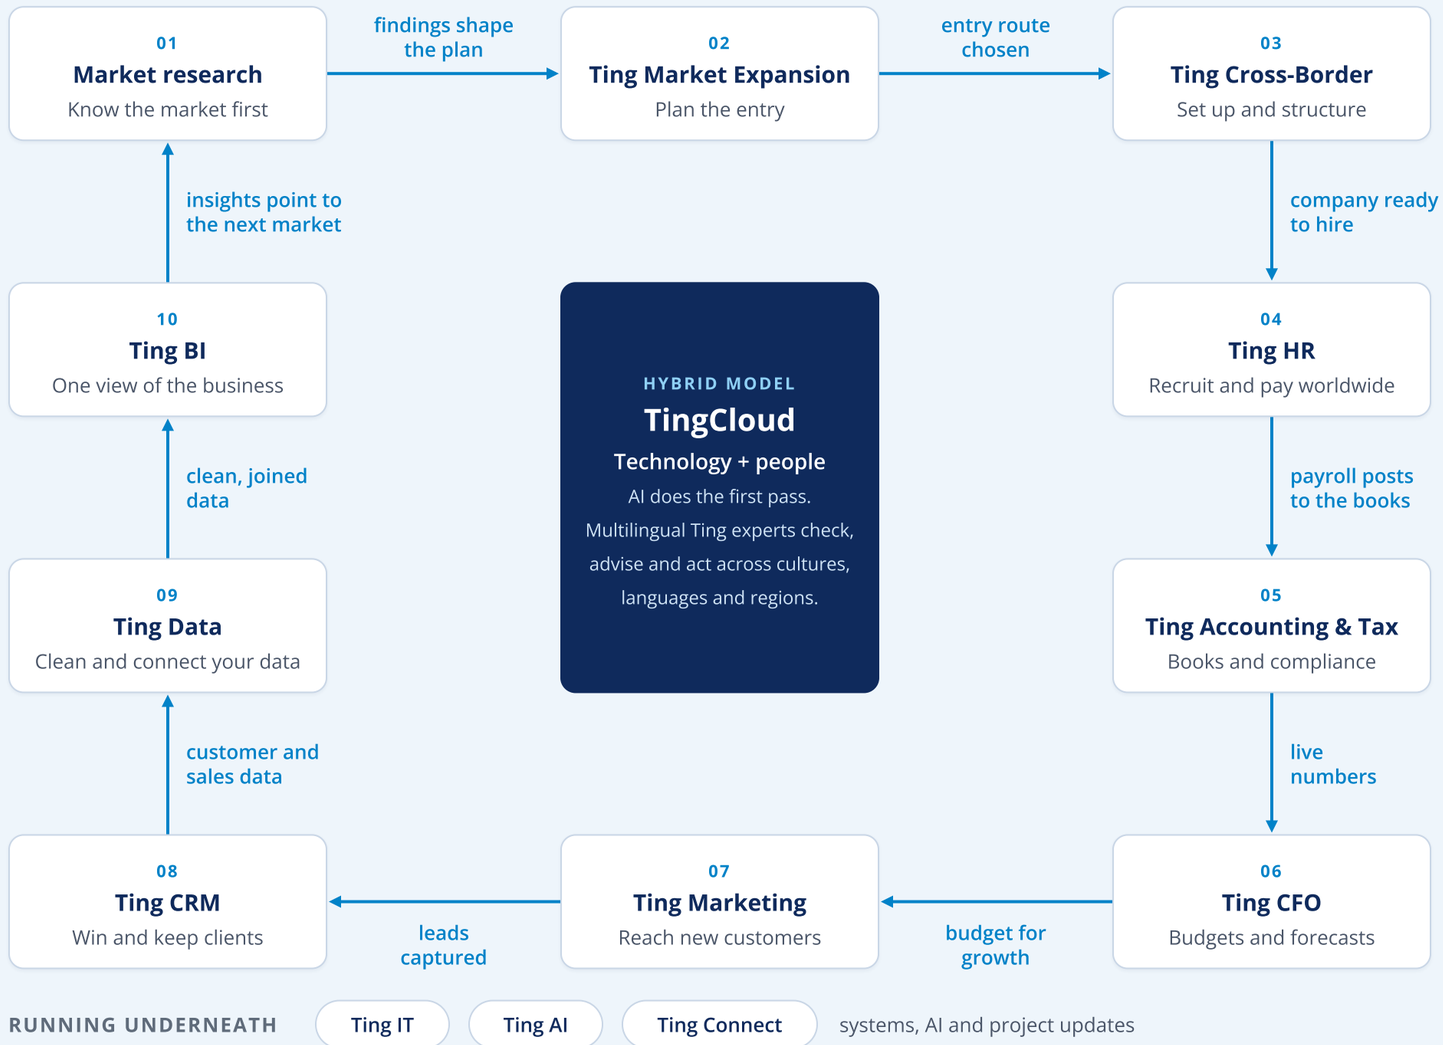

Separate firms, separate data

- You chase every firm yourself
- The same documents, sent again and again
- Nobody sees the whole picture

THE TING WAY

One connected team, working in TingCloud

Enter your information once

Books, payroll, sales and marketing data sit in one place, so every Ting specialist works from the same numbers.

One team that talks to each other

Your accountant, marketer and IT adviser share the same picture and hand work on without you chasing.

People who understand both sides

Multilingual consultants who know local cultures connect founders, teams and partners across regions.

Expert help, sensible fees

Big 4-trained accountants and consultants, with specialist marketing and IT teams. A fraction of big-firm fees.
